

Lena is the Chief Nursing Officer at the Department of Oncology, Karolinska University Hospital and have a long experience in cancer nursing, mainly with clinical cancer care and research. Lena is involved i research and care development in the following areas; communication and patient safety issues, skin care, oral care and smoking cessation for cancer patients. Lena graduated as a nurse in 1985, obtained her Bsc in Nursing in 1998, an MSc in 2000 and her Ph D from The Karolinska Institute in Stockholm, Sweden in 2006. Lena is the current past president for The Swedish Cancer Nurses Society and a board member of the Swedish Society of Nursing's scientific group. She is also involved in the ISNCC Tobacco Task Force and will be the keynote speaker on the topic "Treatment updates-new treatments and their nursing implications, including target-, chemo-, and radiotherapies" at the ISNCC Webinar program September 1, 2010. Lena is also track chair for the nursing track at the upcoming ECCO 16-36th ESMO Multidisiplinary Cancer Congress in Stockholm, September 2011.