

Carenx Leung

Carenx began her health care career in oncology department upon her graduation since 1994. She has subsequently served in the role of Advanced Practice Nurse in Out Patient Unit with focused on care of day patient receiving chemotherapy. She has been actively participated in nurse-led service development, OSH program, quality improvement, staff education, and patient education.

Since 2010, Carenx has been the ward manager of an Out Patient Unit of Department of Clinical Oncology at Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Hong Kong. The services of the unit include Out Patient Follow up Clinic, Day Chemotherapy Center, and Palliative Day Center.

Carenx received her Bachelors in Nursing from Australian Catholic University and her Masters in Health Services Management from University of Ballarat. She is certified as a Six Sigma Green Belt.