

Marise Dutra Souto

Born in Rio de Janeiro city, Brazil, in 9th april 1961. Graduated (1983) and doctorated (2010) at Anna Nery School of Nursing of the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro. Worked for 22 years in two general public hospitals in many roles, including direct caregiver and coordinator. From 2006 to 2008 gave nursing classes in a private university. From 2006 on, started her professional trajectory at the Nacional Cancer Institute – Brazil Breast Cancer Hospital in the clinic oncology and end life care ward for two years. In 2008 joined as a member of the Continuing Education Team and has been assessing ongoing needs and educational deficits specially in the nursing process management. Also has been working directly in the hospital accreditation process. The master dissertation (2003) was about sexuality of the woman who underwent a mastectomy and the doctorate thesis was about the meaning of the implementation of nursing assistance in the oncologic mastology surgical ward of the Breast Cancer Hospital.